A General Denial.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 9.—In an affidavit recently made and published in a New York evening paper, one Thomas Shot, purporting for eleven years and until last month to have been a keeper in the Auburn state prison. gives an extended detail of eruelties and abuses practiced therein. The prison labor reform commissioners of the state of New York deem it a duty to state upon competent examination and affldavits of prison offleers, that there is no just foundation for any of the statements relating to cruelties. There has been no convict or keeper by the name of Shot in the Auburn prison during the past eleven years or ever. The testimony of many convlets, some of them undoubtedly incorrigibles, does not sustain or bear out the charges made. There is no separate or officers mess room or boarding carried on at this prison, nor has there been for the past six

Work of Pirates.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. When the people appeared the men on the boat began to pepper them with powder and shot. Notwithstanding a brisk fusilade the town people put forth in boats to capture the pirates. The latter. however, hoisted their anchor and saired away. All efforts to discover the name of the sloop or who the men were have so far been unsuccessful. The coal and wood belonged to the New Jersey Central railroad.

It Was Some Other Man. NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 9. - About eighteen months ago a man named Patrick Thompson mysteriously disappeared near Fayetteville, and afterward what was thought to be his body rose to the surface in Elk river. The body had been cut open and filled with stones so as to sink it and the displacement of these caused it to rise. A man named Warren was suspected of having killed Thompson, and Warren has since gone to Texas. The jury of inquest decided that the body was Thompson's and it was buried. Now Thompson's brother, who lives in Giles county, has a letter from the supposed dead man, dated Russellville, Ky., April 6, saying that he has been working as a trackman on a Kentucky railroad ever since his disappear-

This was Mrs. Harriet Austin Murphy, who had resided here continuously since 1830, and who was also the oldest living member of the Baptist denomination in this city. Funeral services were held at the family residence on West Adams street prior to the removal of the remains to the cemetery, and the house was thronged with old settlers who had welcomed the deceased at their reunions for more than a quarter of a century.

> CRUELTY TO INSANE PATIENTS. What the Finding of a Dead Woman Has Led to. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 9 .- The body of a woman was found on Sunday about a mile from the Prescott almshouse, in the town of New Salem. It was clad in a light calico dress, hardly any underclothing and a light shawl. It proved to be the body of Mrs. Abby Lindsay, an insane pauper, forty-eight years old, who made her escape from the Prescott almshouse on March 5 in a hlinding snow storm. She wandered off and was never seen alive again. The master and matron of the house are Mr. and Mrs. Wal-ter T. Vaughn, and they made no effort to ascertain the fate of the woman. Some of the neighbors reported the case to the state board of health, and a visitor came up from Boston last week to investigate. A scouting party was organized, and a few weeks after death the body was discovered with the flesh all picked off the face and the eyes picked out

The master admits that as a precaution to keep her from escaping he had been in the habit of fastening to her ankle a convict's ball and chain. The ball weighed fifty pounds and the chain was six feet long. Another favorite way of punishing this poor woman was to keep her head under water until her face was black. A horsewhipping was thrown in occasionally. The poor house itself is in a filthy condition. An investigation is making, and the full extent of cruelty practiced at this institution in the name of charlty will soon be known. Several deaths have taken place there during the last two

Temperance Women in Chicago. CHICAGO, April 9.—The leading spirits of the Women's National Christian Temperance union, which has its headquarters in this city, are not at all discouraged by their defeat in Michigan. They claim that the apparent defeat was in reality a decisive victory, that the indications point to a fraudulent count, and that at all events the small majority which is claimed by the opponents of the constitutional amendment, is full of encouragement for the future. They will persevere in their work, and propose to make the most earnest campaign this fall in the history of the organization.

The couple had been married only about eleven months.

TWENTY-THREE VICTIMS OF THE FIRY FLAMES.

Two Hundred People Awakened at Midnight to Find Themselves Surrounded By Fire and the Stairways Remiered Impassable lly the Flames-The Victims.

NEW YORK, April 9 .- There was a terrible scene of excitement late last night in the tenement house 12 and 14 Essex street, resulting from a fire which hroke out at 11:40 in the basement of the building. The flames rushed up the stairways, front and rear, and cut off the escape of the inmates who were all asleep on the floors. When they were aroused a deadly peril faced them.

The flames had possession of the stairways which had been rendered impassable while they slept unconscious of their dauger. There was a wild rushing to and fro, the men shout-ing for help and the women and children screaming and crying. Those who preserved their presence of of mind went to the fire escapes which were on both the front and rear of the huilding, and for a time the balconies of the escapes were allve with human beings fleeling for their lives. Many were saved by means of the escapes. Others of the affrighted tenants made their way to the roofs of the huildings where they waited and shouted for help. In making their way out of their apartments many of the poor people were compelled to pass through the flames, which had mounted all through the stair cases and broke out of the roof.

An alarm brought a section of the fire department to the burning tenements. When the firemen learned that there were lives in perll they rushed to the scene with the zeal for which they are distinguished. Clambering up the five escapes the crews of hook and ladder companies No. 6 and No. 18 gained the roof. There they found a number of women and children who had been more or less severely burned in their rooms, but who had escaped to the roof. The injured were wrapped in blankets and quilts and carried down to the street, where they were given shelter in the neighboring houses until the ambniances which were summoned arrived. Dr. Edward O. H ;nlan and two ambulances from Gouverney: Slip hospital arrived promptly and were followed by one from Bellevue and another from the Chambers street hospital.

The injured men, women and chiidren were tenderly lifted into the ambulances and driven with all speed to the hospitals. The ambutances from the Gouverneur slip hospital made several trips to and fro, and before 1 o'clock this morning thirteen persons, slx women, four children, one boy and two men, were under treatment there. Two men and a girl were taken to Bellevue hospital, and there were others taken to the Chambers street hospital. All these poor people are terribly burned and some of them are fatally injured.

The house is what is known as a "doubledecker" that is a front and a rear house on the same lot, with a small space between the New York, April 9.—It is understand that buildings. There is an alley way running in Archbishop Corrigan has received from from the street for the accommodation of the commodations for four families on each of the five floors of the tenement, or forty fainilles in all. There were probably 200 nersons, men, women and children, housed under the roofs of these buildings, when the fire broke out.

> The fire started in the basement of 12 Essex street, which is occupied as a bakery by a man named Levi. This bakery runs through from front to rear under both the buildings; and there was before the fire a thin wooden partitlon running through the center of the bake shop. The fire is believed to have been caused by an over-heated oven in the rear portion of the bakery, and owing to the peculiar construction of the building. the flames at once attacked the stairway of both the front and rear houses. There was more fire in the rear than in the front building. As the flames ascended they spread on each side of the narrow stairway along the narrow halls, and thus from the outset escape by the stairs was cut off. Chlef Shav, of the fire department, said this morning that but for the fire escapes on the front and rear of the houses a hundred lives would have been lost.

According to the latest reports the number of the victims of the fire is twenty-three. Nearly all the victims will be mained or marked for life. They are principally women and children. One of the victims, a glri of thirteeen, will probably die.

The following is the list of the victles: T.

that ten men there had barely time to hurry down stairs. Before the men at work up stairs on the floors occupied by Hoffman & Studer, bar fixtures, and Reed & Keller, cabinet makers, could descend, the fire had seized on the stairs. Half a dozen persons braved the fire and slid or rolled past the flames hut in Hoffman & Stueler's on the upper floors seven men were caught as in a trap. Joy, not a soul could have been saved. The Murlet was beating close by and in ten minutes was on the spot, and quickly rescued the three survivors.

The Susan was attempting to weather at iceberg off Cape Broyle when the accident happened. The failure of the vessel by weather the berg is attributed to the failure of the sails to work. The halyards were frozen in their blocks and neither the main sail nor spanker could be lowered so as to let the ship's head fall clear in time and she struck head on sinking almost immediately. The Susan had a crew of eight all told. Itwas at first thought that the lad, who was pretty tough for one of his years, had run away, but during the last few days the mother has talked almost incessantly about ber boy, at times asking what would be done to her for killing him, at others saying that a strange man came in the night and murdered him, threatened her if she ever told, and that the next day she took the body to a remote spot and buried it. Many fear that the mother may have killed the boy in a moment of insanity and buried him. Searching parties have looked all over the place, dragged the stream and examined the cistern

An Actress' Secret.

One often hears of the "actress' art," meaning the art of preserving one's personal appearance. No woman in the country can look at Maggie Mitchell and say that she is not well preserved. She is, well, beyond 50; yet her arm is as plump, her hust as full, and her animation as great as twenty-five years ago. Why? Because as Miss Mitchell says, she never had a care in her life. Her mode of life has aiways been exemplary in its regularity and simplicity, and she has never known the effects of late hours or the wearing fatigue of receptions, as they are known to society women. Under present conditions Maggie Mitchell, ten years hence, will be as lively and vivacious as she is now.-Pioneer

LABOR AGAINST CAPITAL.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION OF THE NEW ENGLAND LASTERS' UNION.

Action Taken to Have Their Organization -The Chicago Carpenters Confident-Various Other Labor Information.

BOSTON, April 9 .- At the second day's session here yesterday of the Lasters' Protective union of New England, the report upon the state of the order showed that over 90 per cent of the strikes in which the organization has been engaged since its foundation in 1879, have been successful. Reports of the Worcester county lockout were received and were of a nature that the members of the union feel very confident of winning the fight in time, as they have sufficient money in the treasury to support all who are now locked out.

Resolutions were adopted counselling Worcester county members never to resume work until the obnoxious notices were removed, and pledging to them the entire support of

A committee was appointed to report as to the advisability of extending the union into other portions of the United States. It was reported by the general secretary that applications for charters had been received by him from Philadeiphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago and New York city and state. It is thought that the union will to-day vote to extend its jurisdiction throughout the United States as rapidly as possible.

It is said that some important legislation will be passed to-day in relation to the stand which the union will take in the future to ward the so-called "scabs." It is thought that while the union does not countenance violence in any degree toward a man wha chooses to place himself in a position of a "scab," yet as the "scab" is the standing menace to the life of a labor organization, the proposed measure in regard to this class of wage workers will be of an uncompromising nature.

Chicago Carpenters.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The striking carpenters claim to-day that they are still coufident of coming out ahead in their struggle for higher pay and shorter hours. The employers, they say will not iong, pull together. "The last meeting of the bosses," said one of the leaders to a reporter for the United Press this morning, "was visited by fifteen men who belonged to the National Builders association. The fifteen managed to push through the motion to have the meeting governed by the rules of their association and among those rules is one preventing the recognition of the Carpenters' union. The majority of the bosses will recognize us and would have defeated the motion had they known that such a provision was contained in it. We insist upon being recognized as a

The Hyde Park carpenters held a meeting last night and by a small majority passed a motion to return to work to-day. They will receive thirty-one and a half cents an hour. Some of the city carpenters consider this a blow to their cause.

You and each of you are hereby notified that you may do so without further notice, and this Invitation would seem to avoid all necessity for an interview or conferences, which I am confident would not resuit beneficially to aither party." PHILADELPHIA, April 0.—Prominent railroad officials in this city have expressed the opinion that the action of the interstate commerce commission in the long and short haui question will crush the entire measure. Tilly say that there is not a railroad of any consequence in the entire country that will not make the same claim as that contended for by the southern railroads, and the justice of their claims cannot fail to be recognized. The commission by almost their first act yesterday concerning the southern railroads have arrayed against them every railroad that has directly or remotely a water route as a competitor, and further than this, they have taken a position that will unsettie the commercial affuirs of the country for three
